VOLUME CVII.--NO. 254. ALEXANDRIA, VA., MONDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 22, 1906. PRICE 2 CENTS.

They Stand Alone.

Standing out in bold relief, all alone, and as a conspicuous example of open, frank and honest dealing with the sick and afflicted, are Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, over-worked, debilitated, nervous, "run-down," pain-racked women, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous remedy for weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness, all catarrhal affections whether of the stomach, bowels, kidneys, bladder, nasal passages, throat, bronchia, or other mucous passages, also as an effective remedy for all diseases arising from thin, watery or impure blood, as scrofulous and skin affections.

Each bottle of the above medicines bears upon its wrapper a badge of honesty in the full list of ingredients composing it—printed in plain English. This frank and open publicity places these medicines in a class all by themselves, and is the best guaranty of their merits. They cannot be classed as patent nor secret medicines for they are neither —being of known composition.

Dr. Pierce feels that he can afford to take the afflicted into his full confidence and lay all the ingredients of his medicines freely before them because these ingredients are such as are endorsed and most strongly praised by scores of the most eminent medical writers as cures for the diseases for which these medicines are recommended. Therefore, the afflicted do not have to rely alone upon Dr. Pierce's recommendation as to the curative value of his medicines for certain easily recognized diseases.

A glance at the printed formula on each bottle will show that no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines, they being wholly compounded of glycerin extracts of the roots of native, American forest plants. These are best and safest for the cure of most lingering, chronic diseases. Dr. R. V. Pierce can be consulted FREE, by addressing him at Buffalo, N. Y., and all communications are regarded as sacredly confidential.

It is as easy to be well as ill—and much more comfortable. Constipation is the cause of many forms of illness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic. All dealers in medicines sell them.

Crooks Robbed Bank Thieves.

District Attorney Stewart, of Pittsburg, Pa., has set a number of detectives at work gathering data regarding the places in which C. B Wray, the late receiving teller, and C. S. Hixton, former individual bookkeeper of the Union Trust Company, spent their immense stealings from the big concern controlled by H. C. Frick and United States Senator Knox. It is hinted that more prosecutions will follow at once and that others may be sent to Riverside penitentiary to join Wray and Hixton, who were on last Saturday entered on the books there to begin their sentences.

The exact amount of money stolen by Wray and Hixton was $885,000. Of this sum it is not thought the teller and bookkeeper got a cent for themselves, as developments up to date show that the men were simply the unfortunate producers for crooks of every kind in Pittsburg. Once they had taken money from the bank to play in the bucket shops or in poker, the whole crooked world seemed to know it, and for them there was no stopping then. All sorts of crooked games were framed up for the young men, who plunged wildly, and their money was so plentiful that the sharks of Pittsburg fairly fought over them. Phony faro boxes, plugged roulette wheels, crooked games of poker and bad telegraph tips on the races were handed them, and on each and all they plunged to the limit. It is stated that the sharks, including the bucket-shop people, got it all.

Details of one poker game in which they dropped $10,000 have been made public. It was at a downtown hotel, and so anxious were the card sharps to get the "good thing" quick they framed up one hand at poker wherein Wray dropped $3,850, though he had what looked to him like a royal straight flush, the unbeatable hand at poker. Wray drew one card to the ace, king, jack and ten of diamonds and the card he drew was the queen of diamonds. One of the gamblers had not drawn any cards and bet viciously, and soon Wray had all his remaining money, $3,850, in the pot on his unbeatable hand. When the hands were shown Wray's opponent showed that the card which Wray had drawn was of a different pattern on the back from another deck. This made the hand foul and the gamblers raked in the pot, amounting to much over $7,000, with one pair of sixes.

Japan and the United States.

A dispatch from Tokio says it would be difficult to overestimate the gravity of the situation caused by the anti-Japanese feeling that has been given voice in the United States. At a dinner Sunday night, attended by 150 prominent bankers and business men at the Imperial Hotel, deep feeling was expressed that America should regard with indifference acts that are tantamount to a declaration of racial war.

Little was said regarding the American protest against Japan's programme in Manchuria, the killing of Japanese sealers, the murder of the Japanese bank president in San Francisco, the attacks by John D. Rockefeller on Japan's commercial treachery, the Hawaiian exclusion policy, the public insults to Prof. Omori, and Congressman Kahn's war threats, all of which incidents have occurred within three months, but the exclusion of Japanese children from the public schools of California cuts this child-loving nation to the quick.

There is evidence that the government regards the situation as extremely serious. It has taken measures to calm the press and to discourage mass meetings that have been called to adopt retaliatory measures.

The whole attitude of protest against the Japanese in California and other Pacific coast States has arisen from the results of the complete unionization of all trades. Because the Japanese work on the railroads and pick fruit for less than the union wage, the cry of coolie labor has been turned from the Chinese against them. Throughout the interior valleys of California the Japanese have practically usurped the fruit picking field, because they work cheaper and are more reliable than white labor.

Gompers Interrupted.

When Samuel Gompers attempted to speak yesterday afternoon in the interests of the Independent League candidates at the West Side Auditorium in Chicago he was greeted by cries of "anarchist" and by viler names, and was forced to leave the platform after several scenes of disorder had been enacted. Serious bloodshed might have occurred had not the labor leader displayed cool judgment and given up the fight when he saw he was defeated.

Gompers had scarcely begun when one of the auditors classified him as "anarchist" in tones which penetrated to every corner of the hall. A spirited passage at arms followed. There was a demonstration, and the movement to eject the opposition was arrested only when Mr. Gompers besought his adherents to allow them to remain. Then began a gradual exodus of the opposition, characterized by President Gompers as "socialists," from the hall.

Every time the speaker would approach an elaborate period and start to wind it up with rhetorical effectiveness one of his auditors would arise and leave the hall. Exasperated at the persistence of the annoyance, President Gompers at last interrupted himself: "If all you gentlemen who have arranged to leave the hall will do so now I shall appreciate it," he called. "I have met this organization before, and I understand their tactics."

"They are socialists!" some one cried.

This angered the crowd, and a deafening uproar ensued, in which several blows were struck. Gompers held up his hand as a signal that he was done, and left the platform.

Drop by drop the offensive discharge caused by Nasal Catarrh falls from the back of the nose into the throat, setting up an inflammation that is likely to mean Chronic Bronchitis. The certain, rational cure for Catarrh is Ely's Cream Balm, and the relief that follows even the first application cannot be told in words. Don't suffer a day longer from the discomfort of Nasal Catarrh. Cream Balm is sold by all druggists for 50 cents, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.

WOMAN

"Woman" is the name of a new magazine for women. The first number is just issued. Your newsdealer has it. You can get it from him, and it is worth your while getting it. There is nothing startling about this magazine. There should be nothing startling about a decent magazine for women and the home. But this particular magazine is unique among all the so-called publications for women. You might not like it a little bit, and then, again, it might hit your fancy good and hard.

If you like fiction—good, wide-awake, snappy stories—both serials and short stories—you will like "Woman." In fact, fiction is the big feature of the magazine.

All the other magazines for women are cast on the same model—a little bit of fiction, a few articles, more or less chit chat, some wise advice, a fashion department and a smattering of general miscellany. "WOMAN" doesn't look any more like this conventional model than a yellow dog looks like a race horse. It is built on new lines for a strictly woman's publication. To know what it is like you will have to get a copy of it. It would cost too much to tell you all about it in this advertisement.

The price of "WOMAN" is TEN CENTS A COPY, and the magazine is a very big one—192 pages.

By the way, two rattling good serial stories begin in this first number and it contains a big lot of other good things. You would do well to ask your dealer for it before his supply is exhausted.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

MONDAY EVENING, OCT. 22, 1906.

ALEXANDRIA was startled again last Saturday night by another murder—the fifth in less than twelve months. The circumstances in connection with the affair are given elsewhere in today's Gazette. This last deed was committed by a desperate negro who is now at large, and his victim was a well known Alexandria mechanic. The murder took place a few squares east of the spot where policemen about a year ago were compelled to kill a vicious black man in order to keep him from killing them. As is stated above, there has been a murder in this city almost bi-monthly since last November, and in but one instance has the offender been apprehended, and he walked into the station house and surrendered himself to the authorities. Sam Mills, and Thomas Elzey, both colored, were killed in the northeastern section of the city; a colored man was slain at a workmen's camp within the police jurisdiction of Alexandria, and George Curtin and Charles T. Smith, the last two white men, have been slain. Apart from these cases M. S. Kidd was killed by his nephew during the same period, self-defense being urged. Four murderers are still at large. Such a carnival of crime in a small community is a sad reflection on our city, and calls for more than a passing observation. Some immediate steps should be taken to bring the bloody proceedings to a close. The time has come when a large majority of negroes imagine a pistol is a necessary pocket piece and such weapons are purchased by the irresponsible ad libitum. That the sale of firearms to such persons should long ago have been interdicted is a conconclusion many have reached, as under prevailing conditions pistols are exposed for sale in store windows and disposed of to any persons having money to purchase the same. "Charged" with cocaine and liquor and with pistols in their pockets, certain negroes have become a serious menace to the peace of the community. Such characters roam from city to city with chips on their heads ready to murder those with whom they may have difficulties and equally eager to shoot down conservators of the peace. The time has come when some drastic measures should be enacted toward bringing such conditions to a close, and it is suggested that the police should arrest every strange negro and search him in order to satisfy themselves that he is not bent on mischief. Laws should also be enacted at once making it a misdemeanor for any person to sell pistols to irresponsible people. The negro who murdered the young Alexandrian last Saturday night was a new-comer, who evidently lives without work, and, according to his companion's statement, he would leave the city occasionally and reappear with money. There are doubtless others "roosting" hereabouts who should be looked after, or scenes similar to those of last Saturday night may be looked for at any time.

THE TALK last Saturday night by certain misguided persons of lynching was deplored by all law-abiding people. The authorities acted promptly, and when a disorderly crowd appeared in front of the station house expecting a colored murderer to be brought there, their entrance was barred by Mayor Paff. The excitement was uncalled for as the murderer of Mr. Smith was not in custody. The excitement is now ebbing, and no overt act is anticipated even should the negro be captured. All good citizens should frown upon mob law. Yesterday a number of Washingtonians came to this city "hoping to see the fun" but they were disappointed and returned to their homes wiser men—it is hoped.

MR. GOMPERS, president of the American Federation of Labor, who arrived in Chicago Saturday, prepared to make six speeches for union labor candidates, announced that he had abandoned his proposed fight on Speaker Cannon in the Danville district. Mr. Gompers received little encouragement from organized labor in his projected crusade against Mr. Cannon, and John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America refused flatly to involve his organization in a political fight. Mr. Gompers made a great mistake when he undertook to carry his orders into politics and the more sensible working men have let him know this pretty plainly.

From Washington.

Washington, Oct. 22.

Second Lieut. John S. Hamilton, of the Twelfth U. S. Infantry, who so mysteriously disappeared when his regiment encamped last summer at Mount Gretna, Pa., has been found in Chicago, Ill. The War Department this morning received a telegram from Brig. Gen. Carter, commanding the department of the lakes, stating that Lieut. Hamilton yesterday called him up on the telephone and later surrendered in person. He has been sent to Fort Sheridan, Ill., just outside of Chicago, to await instructions from the War Department. Without apparent explanation the young man left his regiment then encamped at Mount Gretna and, while a letter was received from him dated Chicago in which he said he intended to commit suicide, no definite trace was found of him until yesterday. It was learned today that the young officer is short in his accounts. He will probably be brought to trial by court-martial.

The New York World yesterday printed a Paris dispatch saying that disagreements between the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, which have been prolonged over a period of eighteen months or more, English society is convinced will result in their separation unless the earnest efforts now being made by the father of the duchess, W. He was confronted by Groff in the presence of Lieutenant Peck at detective headquarters this afternoon, and it is said, failed to recoguize him as Miles's assailant. Letter to W. A. Smoot & Co.

Alexandria, Virginia.

Dear Sirs: If you could get the exclusive sale of a coal that would give double heat and cost no more, you'd jump at it, wouldn't you?

You'd control the trade for a hundred miles!

Devoe is like that among paints; a short ton is as good as a long one of any paint you can name; a gallon is worth more than two of many a popular paint.

Suppose you have painted your house about once in three years ever since it was new; you buy the same number of gallons Devoe, have a third of it left, and it wears six years. Count your costs.

$1.75 a gallon for paint; $3.50 a gallon for putting it on; you save 5 gallons: $26.25 on this job. But you save the whole job of three years hence: about $75. Put 'em together: $100.

Can't reckon so accurately as that; but you see how it goes. Paint isn't alike any more than coal. How much more is coal worth than a slate?

Yours truly,
F W DEVOE & Co.

Silveira at Caracas.

Willemstadt, Curacoa, Oct. 22.—Posing as a man who has done nothing wrong and claiming that he has only absented himself from Cuba for his health's sake, Manuel Silveira, who is being held responsible for the failure of J. M. Ceballos & Co., of New York, is living at Caracas, with his family.

Silveira, according to dispatches received here, arrived at Caracas on October 10 from Puerto Cabello, and then dispatched the steamer Carmelina back to Cuba. He has rented a house in a fashionable neighborhood and is living in excellent style.

Silveira declared he left his firm solvent with $1,500,000 assets to cover $700,000 liabilities to Ceballos & Co. He expressed surprise at the news of Ceballos' failure and his own reported defalcation with nearly $1,000,000 of creditors' funds.

Silveira is well known in Caracas because of his connection with the cattle industry. Few of the people there know of his reported absconding from Cuba, and he has been given a warm reception in the Venezuelan capital.

A dispatch from Havana says that the Carmelina, with Silveira aboard, arrived there last night.

DIED.

MURDER SATURDAY NIGHT.

Charles T. Smith Shot and Instantly Killed on Upper King Street—Escape of the Murderer.

Shortly after 8 o'clock last Saturday night there was a slight ripple of excitement on King street as Officer Nicholson escorted three colored women to the station house—one of whom was a prisoner; the others had been taken in custody as witnesses. They had been arrested on the old fair grounds where a circus company was performing. William Johnson and Frank Robinson had engaged in a fight in one of the side shows and Officer Nicholson had placed both under arrest. When the officer got as far as the outside of the tent with them, one of the prisoners suddenly turned and struck him a violent blow in the face.

Officer Nicholson pulled his blackjack from his pocket, but before he had an opportunity to use it, a third negro, who was in the crowd, seized the weapon and ran away, while a colored woman struck the officer with stones. Before Nicholson could regain his feet, the two negroes he had had under arrest had fled, one of them leaving his hat and light overcoat behind.

Several bystanders came to the officer's assistance and Cora Conner, Gertrude Robinson and Sarah A. Johnson were arrested, and, as stated above, taken to the station house.

Officer Nicholson was not seriously injured, although he had been handled roughly.

Such incidents are common and the matter would soon have ceased to attract attention, but the fight between the negroes, the assault on the officer and the arrest of the women proved to be the first act in a tragedy which occurred about an hour later in which Charles T. Smith, a well-known bricklayer of this city, son of Lieutenant Smith, of the police force, was shot and instantly killed by a desperate negro believed to be Johnson, one of the men who had escaped from Officer Nicholson. The unfortunate man had been one of the citizens who had gone to the assistance of the officer and who had later attempted to arrest Johnson.

The scene had shifted to the sidewalk on the south side of King street, between West and Peyton, when the curtain rose on the second act. Officer Garvey with Mr. Smith was searching for Officer Nicholson's assailants and was in close proximity to the boiler and engine which is located on the square for the purpose of pumping water from the trench where a sewer is being constructed. The shadow of the houses darkened the square, while the passageway is necessarily narrow by reason of the obstructions now on the sidewalk.

While the officer and Mr. Smith were engaged in scrutinizing negroes they encountered, Mr. Garvey saw a colored man who he afterward learned was Johnson or Midgels, a name he is also known by, and followed him. The negro acted so suspiciously that the officer finally became convinced he was one of the men wanted. Mr. Garvey saw that Johnson kept his right hand in his overcoat pocket all the time, and feeling sure that his hand was on a pistol, the officer told a number of people to watch for trouble and prevent the negro's escape when he was placed under arrest.

Approaching the negro, Officer Garvey asked him if he boarded at Wash Jackson's hotel, and the man, in a respectful tone, replied he did not and was not acquainted with Jackson. The officer informed the man that he would like to prove that statement, and asked him to accompany him to the hotel, which the negro seemed willing to do. By reason of the narrow passageway Officer Garvey was walking behind the negro, holding his pistol in his right hand and watching the negro's right hand, when Mr. Smith came forward to assist him, and caught the negro by the arm.

In an instant the negro pulled away from Mr. Smith, turned around and fired at Mr. Smith's face, and the latter fell into the officer's arms, knocking his revolver from his hand. Before the negro could shoot again Garvey resorted to his night stick and struck him two stunning blows across the face. He failed, however, to knock him down and the murderer disappeared in a vacant lot before the officer could recover his revolver, but when he finally secured it he shot three times in the direction the negro had taken.

A bullet fired at the fleeing negro struck the door frame of the old Virginia House, now conducted by Wash. Jackson, colored.

The negro before running away fired his pistol at Officer Garvey and when he saw the bullet missed its mark he struck the officer with the butt end of his pistol. The fugitive discarded his coat as he ran.

Frederick Brooks, an English sailor, who witnessed the shooting, endeavored to capture Johnson, but in running after the fugitive he fell into the sewer trench and before he could emerge the negro had run into Peyton street, climbed a fence and escaped to the fields southwest of the scene of his crime.

The greatest excitement followed the killing of Mr. Smith, and as the news spread throughout the city many citizens armed themselves and gathered in the streets. The performance in the circus tent was almost brought to a close as the news was spread throughout the audience.

The crowd that had gathered around the dead body of Mr. Smith was greatly excited. The body lay in a pool of blood and it was with difficulty that the police kept the surging crowd from trampling over it. The ball from the negro's pistol had entered near the right nostril and passed upward through the brain, causing instant death. Practically every policeman in the city, with many armed citizens, were later scouring the entire section of the country west of where the shooting took place hunting for Johnson.

Several hours later a man who gave his name as John Lewis, colored, was arrested and taken to the station house, charged with being intoxicated. It was whispered by persons in the crowd which had witnessed the arrest that Lewis was suspected of having murdered Smith. A rush for the prisoner followed. At the door of the station house the crowd was met by Mayor Paff, who succeeded after much difficulty in quieting the assemblage.

Mayor Paff, Judge Barley, of the Corporation Court, and Commonwealth's Attorney Brent were at the station house shortly after the shooting of Mr. Smith. They resolved that if the negro was arrested they would see that the law took its course, if that lay within their power.

Upon the order of Dr. Moore, the Coroner, the body had in the meantime been conveyed to Mr. B. Wheatley's undertaker's establishment. Smith was thirty-seven years old. He leaves a wife and six children.

A coroner's jury, composed of Messrs. Robert M. Graham, Broders Moore, G. D. Hopkins, Paul B. Hulfish, William Poss and W. W. Ballenger, investigated the homicide.

Several policemen and others testified in substance as given above.

The wives of Johnson and Robinson and Cora Conner, colored, who was with them when they were arrested Saturday night immediately after the assault upon Nicholson, were questioned, but they could throw no light on the circumstances surrounding the murder. Johnson's wife says they were married at Newtown, Bucks county, Pa., last February, and that he was orignally from Columbus, Ohio. Before coming to this city, about a month ago, they had lived at 325 Fleet street, Brooklyn, N. Y., and had been compelled, she said, to leave that city because of some trouble that was not explained to her. She was unable to tell why he assumed the name of Johnson when he came here. He had been employed, she said, as a lineman for a telegraph company, and had recently been working near Alexandria. The jury's verdict was that Charles T. Smith came to his death from a pistol shot wound in the head, inflicted with a pistol in the hand of George Midgels, alias William Johnson, colored.

It was reported yesterday that Johnson at an early hour that morning entered a house which the police were instructed to watch, changed his clothes, and escaped, but this report is denied.

The house which the man is said to have entered is located on West street a short distance north of King. The policemen aver that they carried out the Mayor's orders and watched the West street house as well as that on the southwest corner of King and Peyton streets.

Chief Goods and the other officers of the city have worked diligently in efforts to locate Johnson, and the authorities of places throughout all this section of the country have been asked to look out for the fugitive.

The killing of Mr. Smith has thrown a sable mantle over two households. A widow and six little children are mingling their tears with those of the father, mother, sisters and brother of the murdered man, all of whom have the earnest sympathy of their many friends and acquaintances.

For this section continued cloudy and rainy weather tonight and probably Tuesday; fresh northeasterly winds.

Miss Helen Hoolohan, of Lancaster, Pa., is the guest of Mrs. Clarence C. Leadbeater.

Mrs. Fred Coe and children have returned to their home in Maryland, after a visit to Mrs. George A. Mushbach.

Mrs Thomas A. Fisher has returned from a visit to her mother, Mrs. John Fisher in New York.

Mr. C. B. Swan is quite sick at his home on north Washington street.

The marriage of Miss Harriet Ferguson Graham and Mr. Philip B. Nourse of Falls Church, took place at the Old Falls Church Wednesday at 7 p. m., in the presence of a large company of relatives and friends of the young couple. The bride is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. N. F Graham and has been a popular young lady in the social life of the community. Mr. Nourse is a son of the late Prof. Robert Nourse. The officiating clergyman, Rev. George S. Somerville.

Mr. John W. Atwell is quite sick at his home on south Columbus street.

Funerals.

The funeral of the late Capt. George W. Windsor took place from the residence on south Lee street yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Fisher, and the pallbearers were Messrs. James Wilkins, James Beach, William Sutton, George Laycock, Charles Herbert and Dorsey Fair, members of the Junior Order United American Mechanics, which organization attended the funeral in a body. The interment took place in the Union cemetery. The floral tributes were beautiful.

Funeral services over the remains of the late Emanuel W. Webb, whose death occurred Friday, took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock at his late home, corner of Payne and Wilkes streets. Rev. Dr. Fisher conducted the services and the interment was in the Methodist Protestant Cemetery.

The funeral of the late John Credit, a venerable colored resident, took place yesterday afternoon from Roberts M. E. Chapel and was largely attended. Many white residents attended the services.

Autumn Reunion.

Exercises marking the autumn reunion of the officers, teachers, scholars, and friends of the Washington Street Methodist Church South Sunday School were held yesterday in the church, and notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather the exercises were well attended. The church was decorated for the occasion with palms and flowers. At the morning services, which were held both for the school and congregation, Rev. C. D. Bulls, the pastor, delivered an address in behalf of the congregation. In the absence of Superintendent J. E. Alexander, Assistant Superintendent F. J. Pollard spoke in behalf of the school. Mr. W. W. Millan, of Washington, delivered the address at the evening services.

Circuit Court for the County.

[Judge C. E. Nicol presiding.]

Com. vs. Barbara Pope, colored, an appeal from a decision of the Mayor of Falls Church, who had fined defendant for violating the "Jim Crow car law:" case in progress.

The case of W. J. Blake vs. the W., A & Mt. V. Ry. Co., set for trial for tomorrow, a suit for $25,000 for damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained in the Spring Park accident last year, has been settled out of court. The plaintiff was represented by Mr. L. P. Harlow and the company by Messrs. J R. Caton and R. W. Moore.

Police Court.

Seven persons, white and colored, were before the Police Court this morning charged with misdemeanors, all of whom were appropriately dealt with. Alfred Strauss, colored, had been arrested by Officer Henderson for trespassing upon Southern Railway property. A pair of brass knuckles were found in one of his pockets. He was fined $50. The three colored women who were arrested in connection with the shooting of Chas. T. Smith had their case continued for ten days.

Ed. Waters and Lawrence Pettey, charged with stealing goods from a railroad car some time since were fined $50 each.

Military Appointments.

Col. Wm. J. Perry, commanding the 17th Regiment, Virginia Infantry, has issued orders removing regimental headquarters from Richmond to Staunton, and announcing the appointment of his adjutant and sergeant major. Capt. Carter Braxton, a former commander of the West Augusta Guards, has been appointed adjutant to rank as such from October 20, 1906, succeeding Capt. James C. Bosher, of Richmond, who is relieved from duty. Private James H. Price, of Company K, Seventieth Regiment, is appointed regimental sergeant major to rank as such from this date.

False Report.

A fight occurred in an oyster house on St. Asaph street this afternoon between Robt. Arnold, the proprietor, and an Italian, during which the latter was knocked down. Officer Young arrested the Italian, it being alleged that he refused to pay for oysters he had ordered. This fight gave rise to the report that the murderer of Chas. T. Smith had been captured and created much excitement for a time.

Funds for the Widow.

A movement has been set on foot to collect funds for the widow and orphan children of Charles T. Smith who was murdered in this city on Saturday night. Subscription papers have been left at the Gazette office, the office of Messrs. J. M. Hill & Co., and at the stores of Messrs M. Ruben & Sons, A. S. Donlphan, R. L. Carne, Charles Sherwood and R. E. Knight, where subscriptions will be received.

The long-prevailing northeast winds and heavy rains have caused high tides in the river, and a strong current is now prevailing. The water is muddy.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The Southern Railway machinists are still out, and, so far as is known, there is no likelihood of an immediate return to work on the part of the strikers.

C. E. Churchman has sold to G. A. Chadwick and W. P. Graves, jr., the lot and two brick houses on the south side of Wolfe street between Fairfax and Royal.

Captain W. H. Mathews, of the Washington police, is to appear before the police trial board to answer the charge that his orders interfered with the rescue of Engineer Hugh Murphy.

Mrs. Mary E. Grady, widow of John J. Grady, died yesterday morning at her home, 819 Queen street. The deceased was sixty-seven years old. She is survived by several children. Her funeral took place this evening.

It is reported that when two ladies got off the electric cars at Del Ray on Saturday night, after having attended the circus in this city, a colored man seized one of them but that her screams attracted some men who were nearby and the negro ran off.

Early last Saturday night Miss Cora Petty, daughter of Mr. Willis Petty, who lives at 815 Madison street, was accosted by a strange negro near her home. Chief Goods went to the neighborhood and after scouring the entire vicinity was unsuccessful in apprehending the man.

The Episcopal High School lost Saturday to the Boys' Latin School, of Baltimore, by a score of 6 to 0. Although defeated, the home team outplayed their opponents at every stage of the game and were only prevented from scoring by two fumbles at critical moments.

Notwithstanding the rain of yesterday the churches were fairly well attended. At Christ Church in the morning Rev. Dr. Devries preached, and at the Second Presbyterian Church Rev. Dr. Wills preached both morning and at night. The pulpits of the other churches were filled by the resident clergy.

Edward Coates, of Ballston, who escaped from the Alexandria county jail on the 9th instant, while working in the grounds, was arrested in Georgetown Saturday evening, turned over to the Virginia authorities and returned to the jail. Coates is serving a sentence of three months for carrying concealed weapons.

The big tugboat Sea King which is lying at Georgetown narrowly escaped wreck and her captain and second engineer had a thrilling experience early yesterday morning. The tug, while lying at a dock with fires banked, parted her moorings, and, after drifting helplessly and rapidly down the river for a mile, barely missed collision with the heavy granite piers that support the new highway bridge.

Bernhardt and Dumas.

Sarah Bernhardt had just been elected a life member of the Comedie Francaise. When she found that she had a paper to sign she became nervous and went to see the younger Dumas to tell him that she shrank from the binding terms of the engagement. Dumas' advice was unhesitating. "My dear child, don't sign; your hair is too curly. People with hair like that"—and he passed his fingers through his own crisp waves—"ought never to sign contracts for life. The temperament is too intractable."

Sarah Bernhardt, however, signed, and, meeting Dumas again next day, confessed she had done so. "That's all right," remarked Dumas cheerfully. "I have won 500 francs ($100). I bet Mme. Dumas that amount after you left yesterday that you would at once go and sign the agreement. Well, I shall buy you something with the money."

The next day Mme. Bernhardt received a magnificent wig of fair hair, absolutely flat, lank and straight. With it came the following sentence on a slip of paper: "Now that you are really one of the house wear this. You will need it."

Elixir of Youth.

In former times elder flowers were treasured not only by lovers of hedgerow beauty but by those who desired to preserve their own beauty and youth. According to the seventeenth century prescription the elder flowers were to be gathered on midsummer day, powdered and put into borage water, which was to be drunk daily for a month, the first thing in the morning and the last thing at night. This was a much prized elixir of youth. By common consent there has always been something supernatural about the elder tree. In Denmark it is protected by the elder mother, without whose leave it is dangerous to pluck the flower. In Germany the hat should be taken off to it. And in England it has been variously considered the tree of the cross and the tree upon which Judas hanged himself, to be treated with reverence or fear accordingly.—London Chronicle.

Written on a Slate.

General Lew Wallace wrote the first rough draft of "Ben-Hur" on a slate, giving as his reason that erasures could more readily be made. After satisfying himself with a sentence written in this way he would, with a soft pencil, transfer the writing to paper, and finally, when everything pleased him, he copied the entire manuscript in ink with the precision of an engrossing clerk. It is declared by those who were personally acquainted with General Wallace that "Ben-Hur" was written and rewritten at least thirty times, and that when the final copy was sent to the publishers there was neither a correction nor an erasure throughout the manuscript. The printer set up the copy exactly as it was written, and the author himself never corrected a proof before the book was sent to press.

Lizards' Tails.

Certain lizards are remarkable for the fragility of their tails, although this weakness is not always the drawback that may be imagined. The diamond tailed gecko, for instance, frequently owes its existence to the readiness with which its caudal appendage can be snapped off. This reptile, which will perch upon a rock head downward and tail in the air, is liable to be preyed upon by hawks. One of these formidable birds will swoop down upon a lizard and seize what it takes to be the head, but is really the tail. The brittle tail snaps off, and the gecko wriggles away, not much the worse, to grow another.

Precise, but Acid.

The women with thin lips and raspy voice stepped up before the languidly indifferent ticket seller in the railway station.

"Where do you want to go?" he asked as his jeweled fingers riffled a bunch of pasteboards.

"None of your business where I want to go!" she snapped. "Just you sell me a ticket to New York, but bear in mind that I'm going there because I've got to; not because I want to."—Washington Star.

Effective.

Mr. Bowler—I should like to know what good all these cooking school lessons are doing our daughter?

Mrs. B.—Everything she cooks she brings home.

"Yes, and none of the family will touch 'em, and the things are just thrown away."

"No, they are not. She gives them to beggars."

"Huh! What good does that do?"

"We are getting rid of beggars."

Butterflies That Live on Fish.

The butterfly was blue and transparent. As through blue glass its tiny heart could be seen beating inside its body, and the professor read a newspaper article through its lovely blue wings. "This," he said, "is the pteropoda, a Mediterranean butterfly. It eats fish. On its tongue are rows of pointed hooks. They serve as teeth. This beautiful creature would turn up its nose at a garden of roses and lilies, but it would feast ecstatically upon a putrid eel. Now and then a pteropoda is found on the Florida or the California coast. It is only abundant, though, in the Mediterranean."

The Power of Intuition.

"The power of intuition usually spoken of as being so mysterious is really not so at all," said a woman recently. "It is merely the ordinary method of reasoning from observation intensified. The so called intuitional person differs from the one of more commonplace powers in possessing a keener sensitiveness to facts. She or he, for it is absurd to assert that this power is exclusively feminine, observes a thousand things that persons of duller sense fail to see and that are beyond the control of the most skillful actor."—New York Tribune.

An Extraordinary Forest.

The most extraordinary forest in the world was discovered by Dr. Welwitsch and occupies a tableland some six miles in width near the west coast of Africa. The peculiarity of the trees is that, though their trunks are as much as four feet in diameter, they attain the height of only a foot. No tree bears more than two leaves, and these attain a length of six and a breadth of two feet.

Not What He Seemed.

Romance has flung a deceptive halo over the old yeoman farmer. He was certainly not a good tiller of the soil, but lazy, old fashioned and unenterprising. No houses were so much in need of repair, no gardens so ill kept, no fields so overgrown with weeds, as those of the small proprietor of the eighteenth century.—London Country Life.

Neighborly.

She—I have not seen you for an age, Herr Doctor, notwithstanding that we live only a few streets apart here in Berlin. I learned with much regret that you've been ill. Herr Doctor—Who told you that? She—My brother wrote me from India.—Fliegende Blatter.

Speaking of the irony of fate, why is it that a man's friends sometimes forget him, but his enemies never?—Terrill (Tex.) Transcript.

The Hesitant Swain.

He—What would your father do if I told him I wanted to marry you? She—He'd refer the matter to me. He (hopefully)—And what would you do? She—I'd refer the matter to the young man who proposed to me and was accepted while you were trying to make up your mind.—Bohemian Magazine.

A Little Short of Funds.

Mr. Tyte-Phist—More money? What have you done with that dollar I gave you last week? Mrs. Tyte-Phist—That's in the savings bank, but I can't draw the interest on it till next January. I want another dollar to run the house on in the meantime.—Chicago Tribune.

His Contribution.

"What did that old miser put down when you asked him to contribute to the charitable fund?"

"His foot."—Baltimore American.

Lynched While Guards Slept.

Robert Clarke, alias Dan Dove, a negro from Kansas City, was hanged from a telegraph pole near the Lucedale, Ala., depot of the Mobile and Jackson and Kansas City Railroad by 300 masked men at an early hour yesterday after being spirited from the jail of Jackson county, Mississippi.

The negro was arrested Friday night by a posse who followed him to within two miles of Mobile and Lucedale, where he had, it is said, attempted to assault two white women and stolen a horse and a shotgun. The negro offered resistance and was shot in the shoulder. Deputy Sheriff H. W. Hinton, of Lucedale, took the prisoner from the posse and managed to evade a Mississippi mob bent on lynching him. Hinton placed the negro in the Lucedale jail, and with another deputy guarded him until early yesterday morning, when both guards fell asleep. When they awoke the negro was missing. The body was subsequently found strung up to a telegraph pole a short distance from the jail.

Wife Caught in Own Trap.

Mrs. Hiram Jones, wife of a rich farmer living near Modovi, Wis., on Friday discovered evidence that her husband was on too good terms with the servant girl, and set a trap to catch him when he met the maid that night. Instead of the girl it was Mrs. Jones who was in the room. As the hour appointed drew nigh, a man's step stealthily approached, the door opened, and in a moment the waiting aggrieved wife was enfolded in a loving pair of arms and smothered with kisses. She endured the caresses for a moment or two, then struck a match she had concealed, and as the flicker of the match lighted up the face of the hired man her husband was heard calling her.

The Battle Abbey.

The last obstacle to the building of a Confederate battle abbey in Richmond to cost $200,000, has been removed, and work will begin on the structure in a short time. This is the meaning of a letter received Saturday by Lieutenant Governor J. Taylor Ellyson, saying that a rehearsal of the Shaughnessey case had been denied in the New York Supreme Court.

General Underwood, who was secretary for a long time of the Confederate Memorial Association, claimed a commission on the donation of $100,000 made by Charles Broadway Rouss, which the association refused, and further steps in building have been delayed by this suit.

He writes: "Twenty years ago I had severe hemorrhages of the lungs, and was near death when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. It completely cured me and I have remained well ever since." It cures Hemmorhages, Chronic Coughs, Settled Colds and Bronchitis, and is the only known cure for Weak Lungs. Every bottle guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, Druggists 50c and $1.00. JEWELRY.

Going Housekeeping?

If so, you can hardly get along without spoons, knives and forks. The silver-plated are without a doubt the most economical in the end. They wear longer, look better and cost very little more than the ordinary kinds. We can even supply silver-plated knives with steel blades.

Your sideboard is hardly complete without a silver set. Silver cake and fruit baskets should also be placed there.

A candelabra with will brighten the table considerably. After the spread has been cleared off a silver fern dish should be placed on the table.

The necessary things in cut-glass are the decanter, the berry bowl and the celery dish. In a great many homes the ice cream is served on cut glass plates.

On your dresser place a traveling alarm clock and a sterling silver or silver-plated toilet set, also a hat and clothes brush.

You will find plenty use of a number of small silver-plated trays. One has always so many trinkets to take care of.

There should be a jewel case on the dresser, if only for appearance sake. Over night it is a good place to keep the watch and Z—K Gold Chain.
